Counseling & Mentoring Procedures

Overview

“A mentor is someone who allows you to see the hope inside yourself.” — Oprah Winfrey

Mentoring is a critical element of overall development of a student in his/her course of study. An effective mentoring relationship is characterized by mutual respect, trust, understanding, and empathy. Good mentors are able to share life experiences and wisdom as well as technical expertise. They are good listeners, good observers and good problem solvers. Mentoring makes an effort to know, accept and respect the goals and interests of a student and in the end, establish an environment in which the students' accomplishment limits only by the extent of his/her talent.

An undergraduate student in his four years' journey of engineering course essentially requires mentoring to counsel and guide them in a right path to visualize his dreams.

POLICY:

DNR College of Engineering and Technology not only stands for the overall development of the students but also taking care of their academic, social, and emotional issues through mentoring. Mentoring is a continuous process in the College by assigning a teacher to a group of students between 15 and 20. The teacher assigned must maintain the record of all the mentoring sessions with details of issues and suggestions or guidance.

Mentoring System in the institute

Each faculty will be mentor of a group of 15 to 20 students. Faculty from the Departments of Basic Sciences & Humanities should be the mentors for the first year and faculty from the respective departments will act as mentors for II, III and IV years. Faculty once allotted continues to be the mentor for both semesters to the respective academic year.

Need for Mentoring

Classroom teaching cannot take care of the psychological, emotional, attitudinal problems and needs of the students. Therefore these issues are to be addressed on an individual basis. Faculty mentors serve as a resource and respond to many questions, trivial or complex, that the student might pose. Encourage students to actively participate in seminars and laboratory work that are realistic in scope; and counsel the students on any other academic, professional, personal growth, etc., for necessary advice/guidance/help.

Objectives

- The institute emphasizes the importance of Mentoring system to ensure the following.
- To provide the platform to the students for sharing their problems related to academic and non-academic matters.

H. N. Sankarman
PRINCIPAL
D.N.R.College of Engg. & Tech.

- To provide career guidance and assistance to the students to grab the opportunity for their development and growth.
- To identify the slow learners, fast learners and the weak students and provide an environment to grow and prosper.
- Guides the students in taking up extra academic and professional activities for value addition as a member of the society.
- To provide an opportunity for overall development to all the students.

Responsibilities of a Mentor:

- Mentors serve as positive role model, encourage and motivate students to achieve their target/goal.
- Motivate and guide students in all academic, co-curricular and in extra-curricular activities.
- Mentors maintain a mentees record.
- Collect information regarding weak students from the subject teachers on the basis of their previous results, various other skills, having less attentiveness, etc.
- The record of counseling and mentoring is maintained in file/book, which is updated on regular basis.
- Mentors submit a report to HOD and after approval by the Principal seek/ remedial actions taken for improvement
- Monitoring student's readiness for personal interview, group discussion, technical and nontechnical support (including resume making, dressing sense, skills etc.)
- Encouraging and motivating the students for attending all the classes, expert lectures and other technical sessions for better performance in examination, contests and placement.
- Acquires the results of each student for internal I & II and SEE of each semester.
- Attendance of each student for all courses is monitor on monthly basis.
- Contact Parents/guardians in case of academic irregularities, negative behavioural changes and interpersonal relations, detrimental activities and future plan etc.
- Keep confidential any personal matters raised by Mentee and not to disclose them to others unless deemed inevitable for any positive gain.

PROCEDURE OF MENTORING

Allocation of Students to the Mentors

- In the commencement of every academic year the concerned head of the department arranges staff meeting and allots the mentors to a group of 15-20 students to an individual faculty member. The allotment of mentors runs on the basis of roll numbers of the students in each section without any bias.
- Preferably, the same faculty member should remain as the mentor for the same group during the academic year.

Filing the Student Counseling Register

- After the group of students allocated to a mentor. The mentor organizes a mentoring

H. A. Jayaraman
PRINCIPAL
 D.N.R.College of Engg. & Tech.
 BHIMAVARAM-534 202.

- session with students as per the slots mentioned in the time table. The mentor start filling the individual student details mentioned in the counseling books. Each mentor should guide a group of 15-20 students. During the mentoring session, the mentor will make the student comfortable and try to develop a rapport with them, so that the students can easily approach the mentor in future.
- After primary briefing and details filling, the mentor will interact with each individual student and will write the necessary information in the space provided. While, filling the details, the academic progress, behavioral aspects, attendance related issues and participation in all- round development activities should be taken into consideration. Based on all such details, the mentor will identify the academic category of the students, i.e. slow learner, fast / advanced learner or weak students in studies. Depending upon the academic category of the students, he/she should be guided to grow and develop. Especially, for the fast / advanced learners, the necessary environment, encouragement should be provided to excel.

Next Round of Mentoring

- The next round of mentoring should be arranged after the completion of first internal examinations. The main purpose of this mentoring session is to monitor the academic performance of the students, to review the attendance, to review the marks they gained in the internal examinations and to review the overall development etc. The mentor will also observe the improvements in the students after the first round of mentoring.
- Thus in a semester, minimum five to six mentoring sessions should be arranged. However, for the special cases, where continuous monitoring and follow-ups are required, series of mentoring sessions can be arranged.
- The mentor will maintain a separate counseling book to each the student assigned to him/her. They will keep all the update details of the students under him/her, provide them monitoring time to time and report the outcome to respective head of the department.

Analysis

- After filling all the details mentioned in the counseling book, it should be submitted to head of the department. HOD will take necessary actions, wherever required and may inform the same too concerned Principal / Management.
- The above policy is of general nature and it can be modified according to needs and requirements of concerned authority.

TYPES OF MENTORING ACTIVITIES DONE TOWARDS STUDENTS:

Types of mentoring done are:

1. Professional Guidance
2. Career Advancement
3. Course Work Specific
4. Laboratory Specific
5. Employability And All-Round Development

H. Arunkumar

PRINCIPAL
D.N.R.College of Engg. & Tech.
BHIMAVARAM-534 202.

1. Professional Guidance

- The departments are well equipped with knowledgeable Human resources in the form of faculty members who by keeping themselves abreast of latest developments offer guidance to the prospective professionals in addition to the classroom teaching. The Industry-institute Partnership cell and Entrepreneurship development cell have been putting efforts in this direction.
- Students are encouraged to develop their oral and written communication skills by essay writing /articles/paragraph writing.

2. Career Advancement

- Students are supported to take up online certification courses offered MOOC/NPTEL/SWAYAM to strengthen the qualification for their academic progression. This also helps them to achieve higher career paths in the applied areas of their specializations.
- The Training and Placement cell has been active not only in arranging campus recruitment drives, but also offering awareness and training for the students.
- Career guidance and counseling is provided by senior faculty members.

3. Course Work

- The mentor and Members of faculty handling different courses interact with students in clarifying all their doubts in their respective courses.
- The students are provided the course material by concerned subject teacher.
- Faculty members encourage students to give seminar on the course topics to improve their technical communication and presentation.
- The faculty helps the students to solving problems, clarification of concepts and acquiring necessary related materials to understand the subject better.
- Faculty members while giving the evaluated answer sheets to students for checking, discuss about the general weakness and improvements to be done in the course. Later on weak students are individually called upon to discuss about the ways to improve their performance by identifying areas of weakness.

4. Lab-Specific

- Each of the lab sessions are handled by 2 Teachers in order to have special care for the students while experiments are being handled. A demonstrative presentation is given by the teacher concerned before every experiment. The Laboratory records are evaluated after the experiment is held. In other words, there is active involvement of the members of faculty Pre-experiment stage, at the time of experiment and after the experiment.
- The students are regularly counseled to attend laboratory classes and carry out experiments successfully to score high in continuous evaluation.
- At the end of the experiments the students take signature of the laboratory in-charge on record sheets.
- Faculty members counsel the students who were absent in the previous class and instruct them to complete missed out experiments in extra time.
- Project will be given to each individual student or maximum of four students for a project.

5. Employability and All-Round Development:

- Mentors provide psychological support to the students if he/she needs for building self-esteem and confidence.
- The students are encouraged to participate in literary, cultural, yoga/meditation workshops and sports activities. This helps students to widen their leadership qualities, decision making abilities, team spirit. This shapes the student into a complete personality.
- The trainers with rich industry experience, conduct sessions on professional communication, quantitative aptitude & reasoning, soft skills, resume writing, personal interview and group discussion.

BENEFITS OF THE MENTORING PROCESS

- Improves self-confidence
- Offers professional development
- Provides advice and information
- Encourages reflection on practice
- Provides personal support

IMPACT OF MENTOR TEACHING-LEARNING SYSTEM

- Reduction in absenteeism.
- Improvement in overall performance.
- Improvement in personality.
- Increased participation in co-curricular activities.
- Improvement in behaviour and attitudes
- Improved interpersonal relationship with elders and peers.
- Becoming responsible citizen.
- Improvement in performance of weak students.
- Increased campus selection ratio.
- Receiving awards and recognition.

Effectiveness of counseling and mentoring

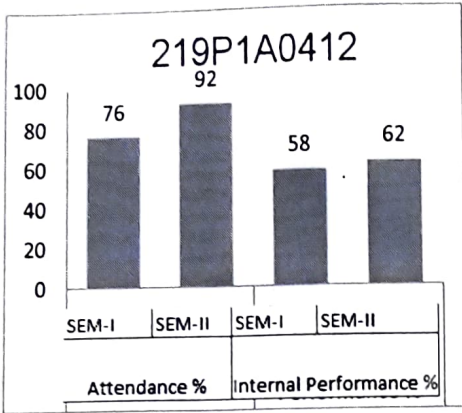

Counseling and mentoring system developed by the Institute has been proved to be effective considering different parameters. The involvement of students in the academics has increased, like class work attendance, self-confidence, adjusting to the new environment, Time management, participation in cultural activities etc. Because the number of students allocated to each of the mentor is limited to one class, personal interaction on regular basis has been possible.

The following are the example for the effectiveness of the mentoring process:

S.No.	Regd No.	Name of the student	Attendance %		Internal Performance %
